1. Overview

The GI Bill® Comparison Tool is a web-based application that provides a way for veterans and their families to learn about VA education benefits programs and compare benefits by approved school, employer, or training provider. Information is offered for facilities throughout the United States, as well as for other countries.

1.1. Access the Comparison Tool

You can access the Comparison Tool from several points on the VA.gov site with or without VA network sign-in:

- To access the tool directly, open this link in your browser.
- To access the tool from the VA.gov main page, choose the “Compare GI Bill Benefits” link on the “Top pages” panel.

The screenshot shows the VA.gov homepage with a light blue header. Below the header, there's a search bar with a 'Search' button and a 'Top pages' section. The 'Top pages' section contains a grid of links. One link, 'Compare GI Bill benefits', is highlighted with a red rounded rectangle. Other visible links include 'Check your claim, decision review, or appeal status', 'Refill or track a prescription', 'Review your payment history', 'Get mental health care', 'File for disability compensation', 'Review or update your dependents', 'Schedule or manage health appointments', 'Get reimbursed for travel pay', and 'Get your VA medical records'. On the left side of the main content area, there's a sidebar with a 'Search' input field, a 'Search' button, and a 'Other search tools' section containing links to 'Find a VA location', 'Find a VA form', 'Find benefit resources and support', and 'Find an outreach event'.

The GI Bill® Comparison Tool \(Search by name/Search by location\) link is also available on the VA Education and Training Benefits page.

2.1. Searching by Name

Select the “Search by name” tab and enter a full or partial name of a school, employer, or training provider in the search field. As you enter the name, a dropdown list of possible matches appears as shown in Figure 5.

The screenshot shows the 'Search by name' section of the tool. A search bar at the top contains the text 'university of oklahoma'. Below it is a dropdown menu listing several institutions: 'university of oklahoma', 'UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA HEALTH SCIENCES CENTER POLICE DEPARTMENT', 'UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA POLICE DEPARTMENT', 'UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA BOARD OF REGENTS JEANNINE RAINBOLT COLLEGE OF EDUCATION', 'UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA-NORMAN CAMPUS' (which is highlighted with a blue background), 'UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA-HEALTH SCIENCES CENTER', and 'UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA TULSA SCHUSTERMAN'. To the right of the search bar, there are filter options: 'Correspondence' (checked), 'High school' (checked), 'Veteran Group' (unchecked), and 'Offers Yellow Ribbon Program' (unchecked). At the bottom left, there is an 'Other' section with a checked checkbox for 'On-the-job training and apprenticeships'.

You can select from the list of possible matches, continue to enter or modify the name, or restart the search by clearing the text you've typed. You can also clear the search field by pressing the “x” icon next to the Search button. You can also select or deselect any filters that may aid you in your search by clicking the selection boxes in the filter sections.

When you've identified the institution, you want (full or partial), and you've selected or deselected any filters that might help you in your search, press the Search button. Your search results are then displayed below the Search form on the right side of the page, with filter options provided on the left. Additional filters are also shown in the results that can help you narrow large result sets.

Note that in addition to a specific institution name you enter or select, the search results may also include similar or nearby options that relate to your search parameters. For example, if you select or enter "university of oklahoma-norman campus" and press Search, the following banner appears at the top of the results (see Figure 6).

Showing 17 search results for "university of oklahoma -norman"

If more than 10 related results are found, a navigation tool is provided at the bottom of the results page to let you view additional options (see Figure 7).

A separate card for each school, employer, or training provider option provides basic information on the institutions revealed in your search.

Institution types are identified by color, as follows:

- School cards have a blue header.
- On-the-job training/Apprenticeship cards have a green header.

The Compare checkbox lets you compare various attributes of up to three institutions at a time.

When checked, the institution card is added to the Compare institutions panel on the results page. All elements of the comparison feature are discussed in detail later in this document.

2.2. Searching by Location

The location search lets you select and compare institutions by city, state, or zip/postal code, along with a “within distance” selector and zoom features. You can also move the map view in any direction and modify any of the search parameters at any time.

Note: The results list is contained in a scrollable, single-column card format, with numbers assigned to each institution in the visible result set. The total number of search results appear at the top of the list.

Each numbered card in the scrollable list corresponds to the numbers on the map. Selecting any number in the map automatically scrolls the list to the corresponding card. Institution cards in the map view contain the same information as those in the institution name search.

3. Updating And Filtering Your Search Results

Your search results can be updated to refine selections and provide additional information regarding your benefits.

- Through Dec. 21, 2021, current and new students can receive in-person allowance rates if their school's approved program changed from in-person to online learning due to COVID-19.
- Click this link to view the current housing allowance payment rates.

3.1.5. Saving and Applying Your Estimates

After adjusting your tuition and housing benefits estimates, be sure to press the "Update estimates" button to save your options. The updates will be immediately applied to your search results set. You can then collapse the panel by pressing the dash (-) icon after making your selections.

 - The goal of accreditation is to ensure that the education provided by institutions of higher education meets acceptable levels of quality. Schools can be accredited by private educational associations of regional or national scope.
 - Accreditation matters if you plan to start school at one institution and transfer to another to complete your degree. Be sure to ask any potential school about their credit transfer policy.

4. Selecting Institutions for Comparison

Whether searching by name or location, you can use the Compare feature to evaluate attributes of up to three institutions at the same time.

You can press anywhere on the heading bar to expand the tray.

The Compare button is activated if at least two institutions are selected for comparison.

To select an institution for comparison, press the checkbox at the bottom of an institution card. You can select up to three institutions.

Figure 31: Select the Compare Checkbox to Add a Selection for ComparisonFigure 32: Select the Compare Checkbox to Add a Selection for Comparison

Each institution you select is added to the “Compare institutions” tray at the bottom of the screen. When at least two selections are in the tray, the Compare button is activated.

Tip: Whether searching by name or location, you can check the Compare checkbox on any institution in your search results and your marked selections (to a maximum of three) will be retained for comparison until you remove or replace them.

When you press the Compare button, comparison results are displayed in a series of tables containing information on your selections.

5. Reviewing Comparison Details

The comparison tables present differences between your selected institutions. For a visual view of differences, select the “Highlight differences” checkbox (unchecked by default) above the first table. Rows with differences are distinguished with a shaded color.

The tables are read-only, but you can select the institution name link on any institution card to in the comparison set to open an “Institution details” page and review institution details on its own. The institution details page also lets you update or modify housing and benefit elections. To return to the comparison view from an institution’s detail page, press the “Compare institutions” button at the bottom of the details page.

You can also use the comparison tables to remove or replace institutions, and use the dropdown links at the bottom of a table (where available) to load additional information on the fields shown in the table.

The following topics provide sample data as well as via the dropdown links below each table.

5.1. Summary Table

The Summary table describes several basic differences between your selected institutions. To view additional information on these items, press the “Additional information on comparison summary fields” link below the table.

Note: Summary table rows, where appropriate, include Location, Accreditation, number of GI Bill students, Length of program, Type of institution, Institution locale, Size of Institution, and Community focus data.

Additional summary information, available by pressing the dropdown icon below the table, includes the following:

- The goal of accreditation is to ensure the education provided by institutions of higher learning meets acceptable levels of quality. Accreditation matters if you plan to start school at one institution and transfer to another to complete your degree. Be sure to ask any potential school about their credit transfer policy.
- Schools are accredited regionally or nationally by private educational associations. While the Department of Education (ED) doesn't say whether regional or national accreditation is better, a recent ED study revealed that, "Nearly 90 percent of all student credit transfer opportunities occurred between institutions that were regionally, rather than nationally, accredited." Read the ED Report on Credit Transferability by clicking this link.
- To learn more about the accreditation process and types of accreditation, visit the About This Tool page.
- The number of Veterans, service members and family members using their GI Bill benefits attending this school in the last calendar year. This includes all chapters of the GI Bill program (e.g., Post-9/11, Montgomery GI Bill, Reserve Education Assistance Program, and Veteran Readiness and Employment). Keep in mind that differences in attendee numbers don't necessarily mean one school is more military friendly than another. This information will be updated annually.
- The size of institutions is based on calculation of full-time equivalent students (FTEs) which considers both full-time and part-time students. Two-year colleges are classified using a different scale than four-year and higher institutions.

Two-year college sizes include:

- Very small -- fewer than 500 FTEs attend this institution
- Small -- at least 500 but fewer than 2,000 FTEs attend
- Medium -- at least 2000 but fewer than 5,000 FTEs
- Large -- at least 5,000 but fewer than 10,000 FTEs attend
- Very large -- 10,000 or more FTEs attend

Four-year college sizes include:

- Very small -- fewer than 1,000 FTEs attend this four-year institution
- Small -- at least 1,000 but fewer than 3,000 FTEs attend
- Medium -- at least 3,000 but fewer than 10,000 FTEs attend
- Large -- more than 10,000 FTEs attend

5.2. Community Focus

Community focus filters spotlight colleges or other institutions of higher learning that support one or more specific communities (e.g., support for a specified race, ethnicity, or religious affiliation).

5.3. Your Estimated Benefits

The “Your estimated benefits” tables show payments made to the institution as well as payments made to you. As with the summary table, additional information is provided by pressing the dropdown link below each table.

5.8. Principles of Excellence

The Principles of Excellence are a set of guidelines for educational institutions that receive federal funding. Schools that choose to participate commit to a higher standard of service for Veterans, service members, and their families.

Participating schools agree to:

- End fraudulent or aggressive recruiting practices and misrepresentation.
- Provide students with a personalized form outlining the total cost of an education program.
- Offer educational plans for all military and Veteran education beneficiaries.
- Accommodate service members and Reservists who are temporarily absent due to service-related requirements.
- Assign a dedicated point of contact for academic and financial advising.
- Ensure all new programs are accredited before enrolling students.
- Align institutional refund policies with those required under Title IV.

Note: Foreign schools, high schools, on-the-job training and apprenticeship programs, residency and internship programs, and institutions that do not charge tuition and fees are not required to comply with the Principles of Excellence.

While we make every effort to ensure this information is accurate, it should be used as a planning tool. The list of Principles of Excellence schools is updated quarterly.

In addition to these guidelines, institutions may also support the "8 Keys to Veterans' Success"—a voluntary set of steps that help Veterans and service members successfully transition to higher education, complete their programs, and gain career-ready skills. Postsecondary institutions listed as supporters have expressed their commitment to these keys; however, this does not guarantee implementation, nor does it represent an endorsement by the U.S. Department of Education. To learn more about accreditation, visit the U.S. Department of Education's 8 Keys to Veterans' Success page.

Military Tuition Assistance is another benefit available to eligible members of the Army, Navy, Marines, Air Force, and Coast Guard. Each branch has its own eligibility requirements and application process, and the tuition assistance is typically paid directly to the educational institution by the respective military service.

If a school offers priority enrollment—allowing certain student Veterans to register for classes earlier than others—this feature will be noted in the school's listing.

6. Reviewing Individual Institution Details

For more detailed information about a specific institution, press the institution’s name on its basic information card. Individual institution details are available from either a search results page or a comparison page.

The individual institution details page provides more comprehensive information than is available elsewhere in the application, including, in most cases, a direct link to the institution’s site.

You can also use the information card overview at the top of the institution details page to add or remove the selected institution to the comparison tray by selecting the Compare checkbox.

To return to your previous location in the application after reviewing the individual institution details, press the GI Bill® Comparison Tool “breadcrumb” link at the top of the page, or press your browser’s back button (on a mobile device, swipe down and press the left arrow).

6.1. Institution Details Overview

The institution card on an individual institution details page offers extended information about your selection. Links are also provided to learn more about specific items and to navigate to other sections of the page.

Note: Details provided for individual institution pages may differ, depending on the institution type (school, employer, or training facility)

"Learn more" links to a typical institution page provide the following information:

- Number of GI Bill Students: The number of Veterans, service members and family members using GI Bill benefits attending this school in the last calendar year. This includes all chapters of the GI Bill program (e.g., Post-9/11, Montgomery GI Bill, Reserve Education Assistance Program, and Veteran Readiness and Employment). Keep in mind that differences in attendee numbers don't necessarily mean one school is more military friendly than another. This information will be updated annually.
- Accreditation: Is the school regionally or nationally accredited at the institution level? Schools are accredited by private educational associations of regional or national scope. While the Department of Education does not say whether regional or national accreditation is better, a recent ED study revealed that, "Nearly 90 percent of all student credit transfer opportunities occurred between institutions that were regionally, rather than nationally, accredited." Reference: Transferability of Postsecondary Credit Following Student Transfer or Coenrollment Statistical Analysis Report. To learn more about accreditation types, visit the About This Tool page.

Caution: Not every program approved for GI Bill benefits at an accredited school is accredited by the regional or national accreditor. Prior to enrolling, it's important you confirm the program you're seeking is accredited and whether your field of study requires accreditation for employment and/or licensing.

A link is also provided to let you open the institution's website, and the Compare checkbox is available should you want to add the institution to your "Compare institutions" tray, which is available for viewing by clicking the chevron at the bottom of the page.

If the tray is already populated with the maximum three items for comparison, you can use it to remove one of the three and replace it with your current selection.

6.2. Calculate Your Benefits

This section of the individual institution details page lets you review and adjust criteria for the calculation of benefits based on your current circumstances. It comprises four expandable/collapsible sections and an "Additional information regarding your benefits" section. Note that many of the selectable options in this section are also available on the "Update Tuition And Housing Estimates" panel on the Comparison Tool home page.

6.2.2. Which GI Bill Benefit Do you want to use?

You may be eligible for multiple types of education and training programs. Different programs offer different benefits, so it's important to choose the program that will best meet your needs. Use this tool to compare programs and schools. Learn more about GI Bill program benefits and eligibility requirements by clicking this link.

6.2.3. Cumulative Post-9/11 Active-Duty Service

The Post-9/11 GI Bill provides financial support for education and a housing allowance. To qualify for this program, you must have served after September 10, 2001, for at least 90 days or, if you were discharged with a service-connected disability, for at least 30 days. The service period for these benefits doesn't include your entry and initial skill training. You also need to have received an honorable discharge.

Learn more" guidance is the same for both of the final Yes/No questions, "Did you use your Post-9/11 GI Bill benefits for tuition, housing, or books for a term that started before January 1, 2018?" and "Will you be taking any classes in person?."

Your monthly housing allowance under the GI Bill is determined by the location where you take your classes. If you use Post-9/11 GI Bill benefits and take at least one in-person class, your housing allowance is based on the location where you complete most of your coursework. However, if you are enrolled in online courses only, your allowance is calculated at 50% of the national average. Through December 21, 2021, current and new students may continue to receive the in-person housing allowance rates if their school's approved program shifted from in-person to online learning due to COVID-19. Please click this link to view the current housing allowance payment rates.

The following "Learn more" guidance is also provided in the benefits calculation pane, which shows both "Your estimated benefits" and "Estimated benefits per term" breakdowns.

6.2.4. Book Stipend

You may be eligible for money to cover books and supplies, up to $83 per month.

6.2.5. Tuition and Fees Per Year

We display the average tuition and fees for an undergraduate student that is reported by the school to the Department of Education. These values might not be the same for all students at an institution. Learn more about the tuition and fees displayed in the GI Bill Comparison Tool by clicking this link.

6.2.6. Housing Allowance

Under the GI Bill you're eligible to receive a monthly housing allowance. We calculate this monthly housing allowance based on where you take classes. View the current housing allowance payment rates by clicking this link.

6.2.7. School Costs and Calendar

This section of the "Calculate your benefits" feature lets you view or adjust the estimated costs of tuition and fees for the currently selected institution, depending on variables you select. The variables are:

- Are you an in-state student? (Yes/No): If you're using GI Bill education benefits, you probably qualify for in-state tuition. If not, and you are viewing an out-of-state institution, the out-of-state tuition value is displayed in the "Tuition and fees per year" field (along with the in-state tuition as "In-state tuition and fees"). Visit this school's website to see any in-state tuition requirements.
 - In-State Tuitions and Fees: This field reflects the amount of tuition/fees the institution charges in-state students. When you select some schools, the application imports the average in-state tuition/fees for an undergraduate student as reported by the school to the Department of Education through IPEDS. This is the same information that is published on College Navigator. Generally, in-state residents are charged a discounted rate of tuition and fees. VA pays the in-state tuition and fee rate at public schools. See all rate and fee tables for more information by clicking this link.
 - Out-Of-State Tuitions and Fees: This field appears only if you've indicated that you are not an in-state student. Enter the total tuition/fees you'll be charged for the academic year. When you select some schools, we import the average tuition/fees for an undergraduate student as reported by the school to the Department of Education through IPEDS. This is the same information that is published on College Navigator. To learn more, visit the "About This Tool" page.
- Note: You can enter values into the in-state or out-of-state tuition and fees fields and the values are immediately reflected in the calculation pane. To switch back to the actual tuition and fees paid to the selected institution, press either of the radio buttons to reset the values.

- School Calendar: You can modify calculated values based on the calendar used by the currently selected institution (options are semester, quarter, and non-traditional).
- Enrolled: Enrollment status selection options are Full Time, $\frac{3}{4}$ Time, More than $\frac{1}{2}$ time, or $\frac{1}{2}$ Time or less. Students attending the institution full time, $\frac{3}{4}$ time, or more than $\frac{1}{2}$ time receive a pro-rated monthly housing allowance. Students attending school exactly $\frac{1}{2}$ time or less do not get a monthly housing allowance. Enrollment changes are reflected in the calculation pane.

6.2.8. Learning Format and Location

The “Learning format and location” segment of the benefits calculation section defaults to the currently selected institution, but you can select “Other location” and enter a postal code to indicate that you’ll be taking classes elsewhere (e.g., an extension campus).

Note: You can also check the foreign location box if you intend to take classes out of the country.

Please enter the postal code where you'll take your classes

I'll be taking classes outside of the U.S. and U.S. territories

In-app “Learn more” guidance for this segment is as follows:

- The VA pays a monthly housing allowance (MHA) based on the campus location at which you physically attend most of your classes.

A campus could include:

- A main campus: the location where the primary teaching facilities of an educational institution are located.
- A branch campus: the location of an educational institution that is geographically apart from and operationally independent of the main campus of the educational institution.
- An extension campus: the location is geographically apart from the main or branch campus but is operationally dependent on that campus for the performance of administrative tasks.

Visit the Location-Based Housing Allowance guidance on the VA's Post-9/11 GI Bill (Chapter 33) page for information on how these benefit allowances are calculated.

6.2.9. Scholarships and Other VA Funding

This segment of the benefits calculation section defaults to "No" for the Yellow Ribbon and kicker bonus questions, as well as "0" for scholarships (excluding Pell Grants), but if you are eligible for any of these benefits, use this segment to include them.

Figure 56: Institution Details: Expanded “Scholarship and Other VA Funding” Options

The screenshot shows a form titled "Scholarships and other VA funding". It includes the following fields and sections:

- Yellow Ribbon recipient: A question with radio buttons for "Yes" (selected) and "No".
- Degree Level: A dropdown menu set to "All".
- Division or school: A dropdown menu set to "College of Engineering".
- Yellow Ribbon amount: A text input field containing "$99,999".
- Yellow Ribbon details: A callout box with an info icon stating "Maximum amount per student: $99,999/yr" and "Number of students: 99999".
- Kicker bonus: A question with radio buttons for "Yes" (selected) and "No".
- Kicker amount: A text input field containing "$200".
- Scholarships (excluding Pell Grants): A text input field containing "$0".

In-app “Learn more” guidance for elements of the “Scholarship and other VA funding” segment is as follows:

- The Yellow Ribbon Program: The Yellow Ribbon Program can help you pay for out-of-state, private school, or graduate school tuition that the Post-9/11 GI Bill doesn’t cover. Schools that choose to participate in the Yellow Ribbon program will contribute a certain amount toward the extra tuition. VA will match the participating school’s contribution, up to the total cost of the tuition and fees. To learn more about the Yellow Ribbon Program click this link.
- Kicker bonus: A kicker bonus (also known as the “College Fund”) is an additional incentive paid by an individual’s branch of service. The kicker bonus may be offered to extend a tour of duty, retain highly skilled military personnel, or for other reasons the branch of service determines. The money is on top of any GI Bill payments paid directly to the Veteran.
- Scholarships (excluding Pell Grants): If you are receiving any scholarships or grants that go directly to pay tuition/fees this year, add the value in this field.

6.2.10. Additional Information Regarding Your Benefits

The final segment of the benefits calculation section provides information on whether the currently selected institution supports specified VA benefits programs that may be available to you. It also notes the institution has a Veterans tuition policy.

Additional information regarding your benefits
Veterans tuition policy:	Yes (View policy)
Protection against late VA payments (Learn more):	No

Veteran Rapid Retraining Assistance Program (VRRAP) (Learn more):	No

In addition to indicating if the selected institution has a viewable Veterans Policy in place, in-app “Learn more” guidance for elements of the “Scholarship and other VA funding” segment is as follows:

- Protection Against Late Payments: If the VA is late making a tuition payment to a GI Bill school, the school can't prevent a GI Bill student from attending classes or accessing school facilities.
- Schools may require students to provide proof of their GI Bill eligibility in the form of:
 - Certificate of Eligibility (COE), or
 - Certificate of Eligibility (COE) and additional criteria like an award letter or other documents the school specifies
 - In addition, schools can't charge late fees or otherwise penalize GI Bill students if VA is late making a tuition and/or fees payment. This restriction on penalties doesn't apply if the student owes additional fees to the school beyond the tuition and fees that VA pays. Students are protected from these penalties for up to 90 days from the beginning of the term.
 - Contact the School Certifying Official (SCO) to learn more about the school's policy, and read the policy regarding the protection of students from late VA payments by clicking this link.
- Support for the Yellow Ribbon Program: See description of the Yellow Ribbon Program in the previous topic.
- VRRAP Support: The Veteran Rapid Retraining Assistance Program (VRRAP) offered education and training for high-demand jobs to Veterans who were unemployed due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The program was closed and stopped accepting new enrollments after December 10, 2022. If you were enrolled in VRRAP on or before December 10, 2022, however, you'll continue to receive your payments through completion of your selected VRRAP programs and courses. A decision with consequences

Your decision to apply for a certain educational benefit could impact your eligibility for other benefits. Here are a few factors to keep in mind:

- If you're eligible for more than one education benefit, such as the Post-9/11 GI Bill and the Montgomery GI Bill, you must choose which benefit to receive, a decision that's final and cannot be changed.
- If you're eligible for the Post-9/11 GI Bill and two or more additional education benefits, you must give up one of the additional education benefits. However, you may remain eligible for the benefit or benefits you did not give up.

6.3.3. Academics

The Academics section of an individual institution page provides additional information about your currently selected institution, including type of accreditation, and whether credit for military training, independent study, and priority enrollment is supported.

The “Looking for career options?” segment of the Academics section contains a link to a VA.gov page that describes the external O*Net Interest Profiler career assessment tool, along with other helpful internal links to VA career guidance pages. The VA.gov page is available whether you are signed into the VA network.

Get started with the O*NET Interest Profiler

The “Learn more” links in the Academics section provide the following additional guidance:

- Accreditation and Why It Matters:
 - The goal of accreditation is to ensure the education provided by institutions of higher learning meets acceptable levels of quality. Accreditation matters if you plan to start school at one institution and transfer to another to complete your degree. Be sure to ask any potential school about their credit transfer policy.
 - Schools are accredited regionally or nationally by private educational associations. While the Department of Education (ED) doesn't say whether regional or national accreditation is better, a recent ED study revealed that, “Nearly 90 percent of all student credit transfer opportunities occurred between institutions that were regionally, rather than nationally, accredited.” Read the ED Report On Credit Transferability. To learn more about the accreditation process and types of accreditation, visit the About this tool page.
- Note: The “See Accreditors” link next to the institution’s Accreditation designation opens the National Center for Education Statistic (NCES) College Navigator site to allow you to view additional information on accreditation and further assist you in your decision-making process.
- Credit for Military Training: Does the school offer postsecondary credit for experience and military training?
- Independent Study: Beneficiaries may use educational assistance to access online learning (accredited independent study) at schools that aren’t.
- Institutions of Higher Learning (IHLs): These schools must be postsecondary vocational institutions or area career and technical education schools that provide postsecondary level education. Note: This doesn’t apply to the Dependents’ Educational Assistance program beneficiaries.
- Priority Enrollment: If a college or university has a system for priority enrollment that allows certain student Veterans to enroll in courses earlier than other students (not necessarily earlier than all students), we’ll note that with the school’s information here.

6.3.4. Veteran Programs and Support

The “Veteran programs and support” section of an individual institution page provides historical information on the numbers of Veterans that have attended your currently selected institution, as well as the totals paid to recipients in support of their education. Additional “Learn more” resources cover additional topics relating to Veteran success, tuition assistance, principles of excellence, and, where available, links to student Veteran groups.

Content of the “Learn more” popup links in this section is as follows:

- The 8 Keys to Veteran Success: The “8 Keys to Veterans’ Success” are steps that postsecondary institutions can take to assist Veterans and service members in transitioning to higher education, completing their college programs, and obtaining career-ready skills. Postsecondary institutions listed here have stated their support for the 8 Keys. However, this isn’t an assurance by the U.S. Department of Education that an institution has actually implemented the 8 Keys. It also doesn’t mean that these institutions are endorsed by the U.S. Department of Education. To learn more about accreditation, visit the U.S. Department of Education’s Success page.
- Military Tuition Assistance (TA): Military Tuition Assistance is a benefit paid to eligible members of the Army, Navy, Marines, Air Force, and Coast Guard. Each service has its own criteria for eligibility and application process. This money is usually paid directly to the institution by the individual service.
- Principles of Excellence: The Principles of Excellence are guidelines for educational institutions receiving federal funding. Schools that agree to participate will:
 - End fraudulent and aggressive recruiting techniques and misrepresentation.
 - Provide students with a personalized form covering the total cost of an education program.
 - Provide educational plans for all military and Veteran education beneficiaries.
 - Provide accommodations for service members and Reservists absent due to service requirements.
 - Assign a point of contact for academic and financial advising.
 - Make sure all new programs are accredited before they enroll students.
 - Align institutional refund policies with those under Title IV.
 - Exclude certain institutions from compliance, such as foreign schools, high schools, on-the-job training and apprenticeship programs, residency and internship programs, and schools that do not charge tuition and fees.
 - Maintain the accuracy of this information as a planning tool, with updates to the list of Principles of Excellence schools made on a quarterly basis.
- Student Veteran Group: Does this school have a student-led Veteran group on campus? If a school has a student Veterans group that’s not represented here, please notify us by email at 224A.VBAVACO@va.gov. We update this information in the Comparison Tool quarterly. Please note this email address is only for tool-related issues. For questions about your GI Bill benefits, contact us online through the Ask VA.

7. About On-The-Job Training/Apprenticeship Opportunities

GI Bill training programs can help you pay for books, supplies, and housing while you’re learning a trade or skill through on-the-job training or apprenticeships.

To include these types of opportunities in your search, ensure that the on-the-job training and apprenticeships checkbox in the “Type of institution” section of the “Filter your results” pane is checked.

You can compare on-the-job training/Apprenticeship programs the same way you can compare any other type of institution or facility in the Comparison Tool, removing/replacing selected providers with any other institution or type of institution.
